CLEVELAND, a number of Senators and Representatives and other citizens prominent in public life. The Herald extends greetings and best wishes for success in advance.

THE CAPITOL RESERVOIR.

Is not the capitol commission making a mistake in the location of the reservoir? The excavation is being made on the brow of the hill, and in cobbles and gravel, mixed with comparatively little earth. The sides and bottom will necessarily have to be puddled with clay, and it is not at all unlikely that a general lining will be required to make the pool safe. Without a substantial lining which will prevent seepage the reservoir will not only be a source of danger and a nuisance, but will be valueless, as no amount of water which could be turned into the proposed hole. Another objection to the location is that being on the hill it will be under the direct rays of the sun all day, and the evaporation will consequently be very great. Why would it not be better to locate the reservoir in the cañon, at the northern end of the pipe which has been laid from the creek to the present site? The danger of a break would be less, the seepage and evaporation would be greatly reduced, and the cost of construction could be no more. It is not doubted that the required land can be had without expense, the city owning the land in the cañon and being interested in the reservoir.

The Herald hopes the capitol commission will reconsider the matter of reservoir site and before spending any more money for what bids fair to prove a failure, and an ugly one at that, will locate the reservoir in the cañon.

It is talked in railway circles that CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS is to retire from the presidency of the Union Pacific, and that SIDNEY DILLON will be his successor. It is further said that Mr. DILLON's present run over the company's road is less a matter of pleasure than a tour of inspection.

It is hardly probable that the gifted writer of the letter from which we make the above extract, really believes all of it himself. He is doubtless so thoroughly in love with what appears on this side of the question to be political harlotry that he is more or less blind to its defects and offenses. The Herald will not ask him or those who think like him to admit as the truth that under the sway of the Republican party a system of political affairs has grown up in the nation whose present effect is debasing and whose outcome, if it remain unchecked, would be complete demoralization. It is a system whose watchword is "victory at the polls at any cost," the offices, with the attendant power and influence which they bring, being more to it than national honor or individual propriety.

Can the doctor or anyone else name a Presidential election which the Republican party has fairly won by means of a full and free ballot without intimidation, coercion or bribery, save and except that of LAYTON, the most recent? When he ran for reelection, were not the soldiers' votes which were cast for McCLINTOCK either thrown out by the bushel or counted for his opponent? If you say no, you say that the soldiers' votes are untruthful, for their testimony is plentiful and willing in antagonism of your position. How was it with GRANT? The intelligence and property of the South were set aside and ignorance and subservient trickery placed on both occasions when he was elected. Was not the election of LAYTON a similar case? The soldiers' votes were counted in his favor, and the full exposure of the Republican rascals who carried it out and their escape from the hands of justice through the intervention of men appointed for the purpose—what have you to say to that? What of the situation in the Southern states during the reign of the carpet-bagger aided by the freedmen's bureau and backed by the unconstitutional and revolutionary laws of a Republican rump Congress? How is it now in Virginia, with a Republican executive and legislature, and a Republican legislature, and a platform declaring in favor of pensioning such disabled soldiers or their widows and orphans, and, in short, embracing almost everything which that party has been industriously but groundlessly condemning in the Democracy ever since the war? Is this expediency and a vote-catching arrangement, or is it such advice to principle as the letter writer and his friends delight to talk about? What of PAUL SIMMONS' disgraceful and disgraceful legislative career with bayonets and DANKLETT's mid-air flight which turned the government of that state over to an unprincipled gang of usurpers and adventurers, headed by the infamous W. P. KELLOGG?

These are some samples of that "purity in the public administration of office" to which our attention is called, no doubt; but they are only a few. Pages upon pages could be produced until the record amounted to volumes, all tending to show and show that the Republican party is the party of impurity, corruption and fraud; that its mission is the aggrandizement of a favored few at the expense of the toiling many; that it knows no motive but interest, and acknowledges no criterion but success; that it is not a purifier of society, but tends to undermine the foundations of the social structure by placing inferior races alongside of our own and maintaining them there by force of arms if necessary, so long as they support Republicanism, and also by creating hatred, discord and strife between man and man because of sectional, political or religious differences of opinion.

We are sorry we cannot agree with the doctor, and have briefly stated a few of the reasons why.

That was quite a sarcastic way of saying that TANNER had been let out that the Tribune, the stalwart of stalwarts, adopted in its display head. It said: "TANNER on a Vacation." He seems to have gone to that country from whose hours no politician returns.

A NEW Democratic weekly paper was to appear in Washington the past week, but no mention of its appearance has arrived by telegraph or otherwise. It was to be called The National Democrat, and be under the charge of EDWARD HENSON, with FREDERICK POWERS as editorial assistant. The first number was to contain letters endorsing the enterprise from ex-President the strictly legitimate class either. The negro minstrel and the burlesque artist have their proper field in making up variety, and when decent are entitled to patronage. But having no other object in view as a means of pleasing the public than gathering the money that there is in it, has debased and debauched the business, has been the means of inferior shows by hook or by crook, foisting themselves upon public tolerance, and such a system ought to be summarily sat down upon.

THERE ARE 300,000 pupils in the New York public schools.

THE NEWSPAPERS having failed, for a few days, to say anything about MARIE JASSEN, she fell off a horse the other day and hurt herself, and now she is receiving an amount of free advertising. MARIE will be able to appear at the opening of the theatrical season.

THERE HAVE BEEN WORSE MEN and no better sluggers in Congress than the Hon. JOHN L. SULLIVAN, of Boston.

BROTHER TALMAGE LIKES US.

Rev. T. De Witt TALMAGE has come to the conclusion that every newspaper reporter in New York is his friend in a personal way, and then he goes on to say that he has been betrayed by about every class of men in the world except newspaper men, and he has come to the conclusion that there is a spirit of fairness abroad in the newspapers which is hardly to be found anywhere else. For all of which THE HERALD returns its proportion of the thanks due.

While not always approving of the utterances of Mr. TALMAGE, it is not to be gainsaid that an eloquent, cultivated and logical divine, he has few if any equals. On all questions save one—Uth and the Mormons—he invariably exhibits a liberal spirit and a comprehensiveness of purpose which are greatly to his credit. Many of the newspapers print his Sunday sermons merely because of their literary value and historical merit, without endorsing or dissenting from his peculiar religious views.

It is hardly probable that the gifted writer of the letter from which we make the above extract, really believes all of it himself. He is doubtless so thoroughly in love with what appears on this side of the question to be political harlotry that he is more or less blind to its defects and offenses. The Herald will not ask him or those who think like him to admit as the truth that under the sway of the Republican party a system of political affairs has grown up in the nation whose present effect is debasing and whose outcome, if it remain unchecked, would be complete demoralization. It is a system whose watchword is "victory at the polls at any cost," the offices, with the attendant power and influence which they bring, being more to it than national honor or individual propriety.
